THOMASVILLE, Ga., April 9.—(AP)—A chronicle expressed wish for a sub-machine gun today had led to the arrest of two men charged with violating the Lindbergh kidnapping law in connection with an attempt to extort $10,000 from Howard M. Hanna, Cleveland financier and nephew of Mark Hanna.

Officers, balked by a cold trail in the extortion plot, seized on a chance bit of conversation repeated by workman at Melrose plantation, the Hanna winter estate here, in which Emily Callahan, 24, was quoted as wishing for a "Tommy" gun.

That bit of information led to the arrest of Callahan and J. E. ("Uncle Sam") Pullan, 55, and an alleged confession from Callahan, giving the details of the plot.

Learning of Callahan's desire for a Thompson machine gun, officers immediately recalled that one of the extortion notes threatened members of the Hanna family with death from such a gun unless the money was paid. They immediately started a search for Callahan that led them to Miami and Belle Glade, Fla., before the man wanted returned here and surrendered to Sheriff G. E. Davis one jump ahead of the pursuing officers.

Atlanta Led Chase.

The chase through Florida was led by M. L. Shropshire, a private detective of Atlanta, who worked on the case from the beginning, uncovering the evidence that sent the officers in pursuit of Callahan, finally running him back to a waiting jail here.

In a purported confession made public by T. W. Orestreter, postal inspector, Callahan is quoted as saying he and Pullan wrote the first letter about four weeks ago, in which they threatened to "blow up" the Hanna estate. It was mailed after being dusted with powder to remove fingerprints.

The Hanna had been picked, Callahan said, after he and Pullan had sought a way to make some "easy money." Callahan had been employed in the construction of a swimming pool at Melrose plantation.

Callahan said he went to a designated railroad station light to get the money but saw a crowd of men and left.

On March 24 the second letter, threatening to use a sub-machine gun against the family, was sent and directed that the money be tossed from

2 Report "All's Well"
In Bathless Antarctica

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—Reporting "all's well" in the Antarctic, two members of the Byrd expedition returned to New York today.

They were Victor H. Czechaka, supply officer, and Granville P. Lindley, chief electrician. They arrived on the liner Virginia from San Francisco.

Lindley will return to the Antarctic next fall; Czechaka won't return because of ill health.

The morale of the members of the expedition has been high, Lindley reported. No one takes any baths in Antarctica, he said; it means pneumonia.

"It doesn't matter, however," he added. "We can't get dirty. There is no dirt in Antarctica."

Survey Beginning Today

The federal emergency relief administration has sent its auditors into the state to determine how much is needed to complete the regular term of the common schools, it was learned Monday.

Administrator Harry L. Hopkins has promised to supply the needed funds, estimated at between $1,000,000 and $1,200,000.

Miss Gay R. Shepperson, Georgia FERA administrator, said Monday that the auditors will begin their work today and that she hopes they will complete their check before the end of the week.

The survey of the situation will be in charge of Lester B. Healy, who arrived here today from Washington and held a preliminary conference with Miss Shepperson.

Mr. Hopkins already has ordered a grant of $800,000 to Georgia and at the time this grant was ordered it was promised that all the funds needed to keep the schools open for a full term would be forwarded to the state.

The administrator has received a letter from one of Mr. Hopkins' assistants, revealing the program that is being carried on in Georgia.

Recently an agent of the FERA made a survey here and fixed the schools' needs of the state at $1,800,000, and since the $800,000 amount of the federal grant is now available, the lowest estimate of the balance needed is $1,000,000.

for Most of Increase.

The state of Georgia's income from various taxes showed an increase of $1,677,962, or 33 per cent, during the first three months of this year over the same three months of 1933.

State Treasurer George B. Hamilton reported to Governor Eugene Talmadge Monday after making his quarterly compilation of receipts.

Mr. Hamilton said the increase was due to a general improvement of conditions over the state and was aided materially by the heavy early sales of automobile license tags during January, February and March. Tags were sold later last year, few having been bought before the legislature adjourned late in March.

Mr. Hamilton reported the income from all sources for the first three months at $6,755,505.94, as compared with a total income of $5,077,543.73 during the same period last year. The increased income from the gasoline tax, $633,342, accounted for most of the increase besides the tag tax, which increased $772,598.

The state treasurer's compilation showed that $104,000 has been collected in cigar and cigarette taxes, as compared with $144,497 in January, February and March of 1933. The increase of $10,502 was made despite the fact that the tax is only half of what it was last year. The increase had aided the state in its efforts to catch up on back payments of Confederate veterans and their widows to which the income from the levy is allocated.

The greatest percentage increase was made in the income tax and inheritance levy receipts. This year $800,000 has been paid in taxes on income, while last year the total was $629,000. The inheritance tax receipts this year have been $30,949, as compared with $34,308 last year. Fertilizer inspection fees this year total $137,000 as against $52,500 collected during the first three months of last year.

Mr. Hamilton said that the only decrease was in the income from the general property tax, which dropped $196,067 during the quarter. This was due to the decreased levy from five mills to four mills by order of the governor and the general lowering of assessments over the state.

"All in all the general situation looks excellent," Mr. Hamilton said. "It is not anticipated that the percentage of increase will be maintained over 1928."

High tribute was paid Governor Eugene Talmadge for his part in keeping the common schools of the state from closing by Mrs. R. H. Hankinson, of McDonough, state president, at the opening session Monday of the convention of the Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The state president said that the chief executive has met the school situation "with foresight and ingenuity."

"He also has given us a pause to think, to take up and to weigh our responsibility," Mrs. Hankinson said. "It is not anticipated that the percentage of increase will be maintained over 1928."

Teacher people will pass lightly over this matter of great moment, but rather

By the Associated Press.

One of the key disputes in the automotive industry was settled last night when employees of the Motor Products Corporation at Detroit agreed to return to jobs today, thereby opening the way for 18,000 employees of the Hudson Motor Company to terminate a layoff.

The employees of the Motor Products Corporation, manufacturers of automobile parts, ended their week's walkout after mediation by the automobile labor board.

The agreement provided for a 10 per cent pay boost; protection of workers through recognition of seniority rights; and arbitration of disputes arising from piece rate payments. The strike affected 4,800 employees.

As a consequence of the strike, the Hudson company yesterday afternoon shut down its plants, stating it was impossible to get materials.

Eighteen thousand employees were thrown temporarily out of work. It was indicated after the peace plan was approved that the Hudson employees might return to work either by this afternoon or tomorrow.

Added to the problems of the media were the walkout of 1,700 employees of the Campbell, Wyant & Cannon foundry at Muskegon, Mich., and of automotive castings and continuation of the strike of 4,600 at Nash automobile plants in Wisconsin.

Efforts to mediate differences were renewed at the Nash plant. Alabama coal mines theoretically reopened under a federal injunction rendering ineffective the NRA order for wage increases and shorter hours.

The three-day convention opened Monday at the Baptist Tabernacle and will be concluded Wednesday night.

The part taken by the Parent-Teacher organization of this country in meeting the present crisis in education was related by Mrs. Hugh Bradford, of Sacramento, Cal., national president of this group, at Monday night's session. Alice Longworth Seen
As Candidate for Senate

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—Though Alice Roosevelt Longworth was reported recently by her friends as laughing at the idea of running for a seat in the United States senate, other persons close to her said today they were not certain that her determination was inflexible.

However, from sources considered reliable, it was learned she is positive in her determination not to enter the senate race.

It was recalled that Senator Foss, former chairman of the republican national committee, is the Ohio senator who comes up for re-election in the fall, and that Alice's brother, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt Jr., is being talked in some quarters as the possible new leader of the republican party to succeed Everett Sanders.

By ELTON C. FAY.
WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—A government attorney told a criminal court jury today he would prove Bishop James Cannon Jr. conspired to conceal part of a 1928 campaign contribution because the money was "converted and appropriated by the defendant Cannon for his own personal use."

This opening statement of the prosecution, made by John J. Wilson, assistant United States district attorney, came as the white-haired churchman and Miss Ada L. Burroughs, the woman treasurer of his headquarters committee, anti-Smith democrats, went on trial before a jury of one woman and 11 men.

The trial began in an atmosphere of the mingled elements of religion and politics. The objective of the committee which Bishop Cannon headed was described as defeat of the 1928 presidential nominee, Alfred E. Smith, a member of the Roman Catholic church.

The jurymen, as they were chosen, declared they were neither religious nor political prejudiced to bias their ultimate verdict.

Government's Case.

Wilson, outlining the course the government would follow in seeking conviction of Bishop Cannon and Miss Burroughs for alleged failure to report to the clerk of the house all of a contribution to the committee by E. C. Jameson, of New York city, said:

"We will show you that the defendant Cannon, conspired and agreed together that the defendant, Burroughs, should fail to report the Jameson contributions for several reasons:

"(1) Because the defendant, Cannon, did not wish publicity to disclose the source of the money that was being used in the south by the democrats to defeat Governor Smith.

"(2) Because a substantial part of the Jameson contributions was converted and appropriated by the defendant, Cannon, for his own personal use to pay his personal obligations.

"(3) For the reason that the defendant, Burroughs, as treasurer of the headquarters committee, could not report the Jameson contributions as received because she was not able to report corresponding expenditures for legitimate and campaign purposes."

Wilson told the jury that "while we cannot show you directly what happened to the $20,000 cash representing the proceeds of two of the Jameson checks, we will show you that after receipt of those checks deposits of cash aggregating approximately $13,000 were made in the bank accounts of Bishop Cannon at Richmond, and in the two bank accounts at the Conference.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—An agreement was reached in conference today to eliminate the provision of the Bankhead cotton bill which would allow each farmer to market six bales tax free.

This clause was inserted on the senate side and supporters of the bill said that made central aim—to limit the amount of cotton marketed from this year's crop to 10,000,000 bales—impossible.

The conference today was the first since the house refused to accept the series of amendments written in by the senate and a decision to strike out the six-bale exemption, it was said, was soon reached.

It was indicated also that the amendment limiting the life of the bill to one year might be retained. The house bill would have made the bill applicable for two years and the president would have the authority to extend it for another year if the cotton growers wanted it.

Although final decision has not been reached, it was said, that supporters of the measure felt the one-year provision would soothe senate opposition and make adoption of the conference compromise report more likely.

Both senate and house conferees today reported progress and said an early agreement on the bill was in prospect.

Among the prospective changes are restoration of the penal provisions of the bill which were riddled in the senate.

Support for the 75 per cent tax in the senate bill, instead of the house 50 per cent provision, was manifested at the conference today.

The senate bill would levy a 75 per cent ad valorem tax on all cotton ginned in excess of the 10,000,000-bale allotment. The house would apply a similar levy of 50 per cent.

Each state, county and farm would be allotted its individual quota.

World Wheat Group
Favors Higher Price

ROME, April 9.—(AP)—An agreement on the principle of raising the export price of wheat was reached by the world wheat advisory committee today.

This was indicated by an official communication which stated that, after a full day of discussions, a committee of representatives of eight countries was appointed to work out a method of putting the principle of a minimum export price into effect.

Australia, Canada, the United States, England, Germany, France, Russia and the Danubian nations were assigned places on the committee. Argentina will not be represented at the meeting tomorrow because delegates of that country did not want a committee that large.

The committee was named after various delegates to the world meeting clashed on four different ways of reaching a minimum export price. Only on the principle did all agree.

Florence Allen Takes Post on Federal Bench
CINCINNATI, April 9.—(P)—Florence E. Allen, of Cleveland, today was sworn in as a judge of the United States circuit court of appeals, the first woman ever to ascend the bench of a major federal court.
Judge Allen, former judge of the Ohio state supreme court, was appointed by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy brought about by the death some months ago of Judge Smith Hickenlooper.

A European educator to discuss the present Austrian crisis, also, Dr. R. F. Brooks, director of the institute, said today.
Other speakers already listed include Professor H. Parker Willis, of Columbia University; Felix Morley, managing editor of the Washington Post; Samuel Crowther, secretary of agriculture; Henry A. Wallace and many others.
Mr. Allen and Mr. Crowther will debate the question, "Nationalism vs. Internationalism."

BANISH COMMON CONSTIPATION WITH DELICIOUS CEREAL

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Look out for headaches, loss of appetite and energy, shallow complexions, sleeplessness. Frequently, these are warning signs of common constipation. If neglected, your health may be impaired.

Today, you can rid yourself of common constipation by eating a tempting cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes. How much better this is than taking patent medicines!

Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily will usually overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

1934 Tourist Travel in Georgia Twice as Great as Last Year

VALDOSTA, Ga., April 9.—(P)—Railroad conductors are swinging through the cars now with far more vim and energy than they have in three years as the result of great increases in their passenger traffic, climaxed by the most successful tourist season since 1931.
Reports from officials of the main lines going into Florida—the Atlantic Coast Line and the Southern Railway—indicate that tourist passenger business for the season now drawing to a close exceeded the business for the 1932-33 season by approximately 100 per cent.
During the height of the tourist season several weeks ago, fast trains pulling 15 to 25 Pullmans roared over the rails carrying hundreds of north-erners to the sunny climate of Florida. The Southern's main line goes

CENTRAL TO SPEND MONEY FOR REPAIRS

Commenting upon the "gratifying improvement in railroad earnings" for the first three months of 1934, H. D. Pollard, receiver for the Central of Georgia railway, in a statement published today says that this improvement has not put the railroads immediately on any financial "easy street." He says:
"Improvement does not mean immediate return to prosperity, but rather a shaking of the downward trend of the past few years, with, probably, a beginning of the climb upward. But that climb upward must continue for some time before the railroads will be on anything even approaching 'easy street.' Only with the most stringent economies have the railroads kept going during the past few years, and last year 71 Class 1 railroads, among them the Central of Georgia, failed to earn operating expenses and fixed charges. Those 71 railroads operate 58 per cent of the country's total mileage of Class 1 carriers."

Mr. Pollard makes the striking statement that due to advancing costs of materials and supplies, the Central of Georgia would have to spend at least half a million dollars more in 1934 for the same amount of those than it used in 1933. However, indications are that every railroad will have to use more materials and supplies in 1934 than in years immediately preceding when repair and maintenance projects were being deferred, due to shortage of funds, just as long as possible. Many of these, Mr. Pollard says, "can no longer be safely deferred and must now be put through."

In addition to the accumulation of deferred maintenance and repair projects which must now be financed, Mr. Pollard says, "there is an accumulation of past due obligations to be met. The Central of Georgia, for instance, still owes approximately $100,000 of its 1932 taxes and $250,000 of its 1933 taxes. These must be paid, in addition to current taxes."

EAST GEORGIA BANKS REPORT BIG GAINS

WASHINGTON, Ga., April 9.—Statements of condition, made during the past week by banks in eight east Georgia counties, reveal an increase of 33 per cent in deposits.

Fourteen banking institutions in these counties, by reason of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, guaranteeing deposits up to $2,500, restoration of confidence and a general pickup in business, now holds $3,000,000 in demand and savings accounts.

In totals, two McDuffie county stalwarts lead with $750,000 held by Bank of Thomson and First National in ratio of four to three.

Elbert county is second with $625,000. First National at Elberton, which has operated unrestricted since March 12, last, held $344,570 on April 5, while Elberton's Granite City bank showed a deposit liability of $280,796, in call of state department of banking.

Outstanding as Warren county's only bank, and as the largest depository in the group of 14, is the Citizens Bank of Warrenton, with deposit in excess of $500,000.

The Washington Loan & Banking Company and Bank of Tignall, representing Wilkes county in the tabulation, hold less than $500,000; Farmers State bank, Lincoln, $150,000; four banks in Greene county, $350,000; Commercial bank, Crawford, $77,000, and Bank of Sharon, $68,000.

WHOLESALE VIOLATION OF CODES IS CHARGED

Missouri Congressman Defends Unions, Blames Chiselers for Trouble.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—Whole sale violation of the collective bargaining requirement of NRA agreements was charged in the house today by Representative Wood, democrat, Missouri.
In a 20-minute defense of the aims and accomplishments of organized labor, Wood contended a "conspiracy" was behind the efforts of industrialists to beat the recovery law's guarantee of employee freedom to organize and bargain.
His speech, for which he received unanimous consent of the house last week, was in reply to what he termed "certain unfounded charges" made recently by Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, against the American Federation of Labor.
"Among the more than 300 codes of fair competition that have been approved," Wood declared, "there have been thousands of violations on the part of employers, both large and small."
"Betrayal after betrayal on the part of the employers has piled up to a staggering figure, and it is indeed remarkable that the NRA has not taken any action against the violators," he said. "The provisions of Section 7-A... has not elicited thousands of strikes throughout the United States...."

$515,000 Levee Fund Urged for Augusta

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—The army engineer's office said today General Edwin Markham, chief engineer, had sent to the public works administration a recommendation that $515,000 be expended in the construction of a levee to protect the city of Augusta, Ga.

The general was quoted as stating the levee would "be a decided benefit to the city of Augusta."

Flood menace to Augusta would be removed by the dyke as specified, the engineers said. The construction was planned within the greatest anticipated flood on the Savannah river.

In view of the engineer's recommendation, efforts may be made to adopt it as a federal project. It was thought unlikely, however, that funds for the work would be forthcoming immediately, since congress has not yet replenished the public works till.

State Deaths And Funerals

GEORGE L. WYNN.
NEWARK, Ga., April 9.—George L. Wynn, 51, died at his residence on Spring street here Sunday after a short illness.
Mr. Wynn, who was one of the most popular business men of this city, was the owner and manager of the Alamo theater. He was a graduate of Mercer University and a member of the A. O. U. Fraternity. He was a Shriner and had taken an active interest in Masonry.
He is survived by his wife who was formerly Miss Louise Givard, and five daughters, Misses Georgia, Josephine, Lenore and Mrs. Hiram Miller, all of Newark, and Mrs. Tom Goddard, of Griffin.

FRED BUCK.
COLUMBUS, Ga., April 9.—Funeral services for Fred Buck, 24, who died Saturday night at 10:45 o'clock at the city hospital, were held Monday morning at 12 o'clock in Augusta, the body having left Columbus earlier in the day. Interment was in Westview cemetery.
Mr. Buck was survived by his father, E. L. Buck, of Augusta, and a sister, Miss Fannie Buck, of Augusta.

J. W. WILLIAMS.
LAGRANGE, Ga., April 9.—Funeral services for J. W. Williams, whose death occurred Sunday, were held this afternoon from the Southwest LaGrange Baptist church, with Rev. C. M. Goforth, pastor of the church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. C. W. Hansen and the Rev. Larkin Earnest. Burial followed in Shadowlawn cemetery. The casket was borne by the LaGrange Chapter, Walter Crenshaw, Truitt Crenshaw, Donnie V. Adcock and Archie Will Hams.

Mr. Williams, 65 years of age, was a native of Chambers county, Alabama, but had lived in LaGrange a number of years. Surviving are his wife, three daughters, Mrs. F. L. Moody, Mrs. Gladys Taylor, Miss Gladys Williams; six sons, Jack Williams, E. L. Williams, Guslie Williams, Millard Williams, Ellison Williams, all of LaGrange; Dock Williams, of Rossville, Ala.; three sisters, Mrs. C. W. Crenshaw, Mrs. E. L. Crenshaw, of Woodland, Ala.; two brothers, G. A. Williams, of Wetumpka, Ala.; J. J. Williams, of Lincolnton, Ala.

MILDRED STANFORD.
LAGRANGE, Ga., April 9.—Mildred Stanford, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stanford, died early this morning at the residence.
Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the St. John Methodist church, in charge, Rev. John Freeman, pastor of the East LaGrange Baptist church, in charge. Burial will follow in Hillview cemetery.
The pallbearers will be J. O. Frost, R. T. Stanford, J. B. Hillier, Henry Stanford, and W. L. Frost. Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stanford; three sisters, Misses Katherine, Berte and Grace Stanford; two brothers, Emmett Stanford and H. S. Stanford Jr., all of LaGrange.

Sally's skin is as slick as silk...
since she's used THE SOAP OF BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Sally fretted and Sally fumed. But that was before she knew about Camay. The Soap of Beautiful Women has worked wonders for her complexion. And to see the happy look in her eye you'd think she'd fallen into a fortune. For a Camay Complexion does things to a girl's spirit—as well as to her charm!

HAS any one admired you lately? Has any one noticed the beauty of your complexion?

Well, if they haven't, it's about time to change your beauty soap—and to see how Camay can improve the texture of your skin and the beauty of your face.

For Camay is unlike any soap you have ever used. It never gives you a "raw soap" feeling. Its rich lather is gentle and abundant. Camay bubbles are Beauty Bubbles.

GET YOURSELF A CAMAY COMPLEXION WIN YOUR DAILY BEAUTY CONTEST

All life's a Beauty Contest and the girl with a soft clear skin has one important feminine charm in her favor. For a good complexion instantly attracts men's admiration and thoughtful attentions. If Camay can make a difference in your skin as it did in the story of Sally, and in the lives of other girls, surely you'll want to know and use it for your own.

"That velvety feeling my skin has acquired, I can trace directly to Camay's lather," said a designer of fashions. "It's so rich—so soothing!"

"To me, a cake of Camay is worth far more than it costs," said a travel expert. "There's no other soap quite so lovely and mild."

A few cakes of Camay can be the passport to beauty for your skin. They will clear away the dullness that hides the natural quality and texture of a good complexion. Turn to Camay—as hundreds of thousands of women have done—and Camay will not fail you!

• Camay Bubbles are Beauty Bubbles

As water comes in contact with a creamy-white cake of Camay, a shower of jewel-like bubbles appears. Each drop of water mingles with the pure, white soap to form these fragrant Beauty Bubbles—freshly made each time you cleanse your skin.

Gently, swiftly they glide over your skin, then rinse away, leaving it refreshed and aglow with cleanliness. Camay bubbles are Beauty Bubbles! A beauty lotion in its finest form. Try Camay—and you'll see!

"Every smart girl knows that life is a Beauty Contest. That's why we all try to be charming and pretty. I've found that a Camay Complexion wins men's favor and praise."

EDITIONS OF LEDGER AND INQUIRER MERGE

Philadelphia Newspapers
Will Be Printed as One
Beginning April 16.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—(AP)—Announcement was made tonight that "on Monday, April 16, the Morning and Sunday Public Ledger will be combined with the Morning and Sunday Philadelphia Inquirer, the combined newspaper being published at the Inquirer plant."

The Evening Public Ledger will continue to be published from the Ledger plant.

The statement also says: "All of the outstanding features of the Morning and Sunday Public Ledger will continue to appear in the Inquirer, and those classifications of news in which the Ledger has specialized will be as fully covered in the Inquirer."

The Public Ledger has been in the morning newspaper field for 98 years, having been established in March, 1836.

For many years the Ledger was issued only as a morning paper, but in the present century a Sunday edition was started, as was also the Evening Public Ledger.

The papers were owned by the Curtis-Martin Newspapers, Inc., which last December announced that the name would be changed to Public Ledger, Inc., to correct an "erroneous impression" that Curtis-Martin Newspapers, Inc., was affiliated with Curtis Publishing Company.

John C. Martin, son-in-law of the late Cyrus H. K. Curtis, is president and publisher of Public Ledger, Inc.

AUTOISTS WARNED TO GREATER CARE FOR SPRING SEASON

Death rides the highways in the spring, Jack Strous, secretary of the Atlanta Motor Club, which is sponsoring a statewide safety campaign, said Monday in warning motorists to take great care in driving because of the increased number of automobiles now on the roads.

In the spring many more cars are operated than in the winter and this year the number will be larger than ever before, Strous said.

"Sunday six persons were killed in the state due to automobile and train accidents, and now is the time for motorists to take warning," he asserted.

"Saving a second in rushing past a dangerous corner or breaking through a red traffic light may cost a human life or cause a permanent injury. A man 35 years old has an estimated 17,000,000 more minutes to live and it isn't worth risking them all to have just one or two seconds when the slightest care would prevent a fatal accident."

"Drive slowly and carefully and observe all traffic rules and regulations, especially on week-ends, when so many persons take joy rides which end in tragedy," he warned.

CRATER'S PARENTS ASK ASSISTANCE FROM WIFE

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—The parents of the missing Judge Joseph Force Crater are destitute, a petition for an order to compel Stella M. Crater, administratrix of the missing jurist's estate, to pay taxes and assessments on the parent's home in Apopka, Fla., and to provide for their support, filed in surrogate court today said.

Jury Named in Trial Of $5,000 'Bunco' Case

Hearing of testimony will begin this morning before Judge E. E. Pomeroy in one of the "bunco" cases in which Morris Pack and Martin Love are charged with robbery of $5,000 from Mike and Charles Deraney, Syrian merchants of Griffin and Jackson. The two defendants are on trial on one indictment only, which charges robbery and larceny from the person of Mike Deraney, from whom $5,000 is said to have been taken.

Another indictment charges the two with robbing Charles Deraney of $4,000. Efforts of the defense attorney to have the two cases consolidated were unsuccessful.

Selection of a jury was completed Monday afternoon.

The Deraney brothers charge that they were lured to a Ponce de Leon avenue apartment with an offer of merchandise at attractive prices, and were robbed, after they had refused to enter into a proposed counterfeiting scheme.

Rail Tax Arbitration Is Set for April 23

Attempts to arbitrate the increased tax returns of the Seaboard Air Line and the Charleston & Western Carolina railroads will be made on April 23. Chairman J. P. Wilhoit, of the public service commission, representing the state, and Henry T. McIntosh, of Albany, representing the carriers, announced Monday following a conference.

The Seaboard assessment was increased from $11,427,000 to $25,620,000. The Charleston & Western Carolina assessment was increased from $27,000 to $570,000.

Both lines were among the 13 railroads and 10 telephone companies to get increased assessments.

Mr. Wilhoit said he had been in conference with arbiters for several other roads but no date for arbitration had been set for them.

STEEL CO. EMPLOYEES TO CONFER ON STRIKE

Another development in the threatened strike of employees of the Virginia Bridge & Iron Company, at Birmingham, came Monday, when Frank Coffee, secretary, was directed by the regional labor board to hold an election of employees to confer with the management.

O. Sadler, one of the workers, was ordered reinstated, but the board declined a similar order for Orion Mayne. Mr. Coffee went to Birmingham a month ago to determine who were the chosen representatives of the employees.

The strike of employees of the Fayetteville Silk Mill, at Fayetteville, Tenn., has been settled, the president of the company informed Mr. Coffee Monday by telephone.

The board will hold a hearing this morning on charges of employees of the Florida Public Service Company that it discharged workers because of union affiliations. The company claims the employees were discharged for cause.

FULTON JAIL CONTRACT WILL BE SIGNED SOON

Contracts for the PWA appropriation of $155,000 for renovation of Fulton tower are expected to be signed within the next few days, upon completion of which preliminaries the funds will be available at once.

Plans calling for expenditure of $225,000 for remodeling the jail will not be pushed further by the county. Walter C. Hendrix, chairman of the public works committee of the county commission, said Monday. The outstanding difference between the two plans is the addition of two floors, which was provided for in the more costly plan.

MILICAN WILL DECIDE ON KEEPING PARK POST

Baptist Ministers Approve Committee Chairman's Stand on Baseball.

Alderman G. Everett Millican, chairman of the parks committee of council, is expected this afternoon to make known his intention regarding continuance as head of the Atlanta parks system.

A meeting of the parks committee will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall, at which time the parks committee will vote three for to two against Sunday baseball in the municipally operated recreation centers.

Millican has announced that no permits for Sunday baseball will be issued as long as he is chairman of the committee, and there was much speculation in city hall circles as to whether he will retain his chairmanship.

In the event that he decides to resign, Mayor James L. Key probably will select Councilman C. W. Childs to succeed him.

More than 50 members of the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' conference Monday supported Millican's stand in opposing the Sunday game.

A resolution unanimously adopted by the ministers said: "We express the earnest hope that the citizenship of Atlanta will observe the laws by which the Christian Sabbath may be preserved as a vital principle of divine truth and human well-being. We commend those public servants who seek to fulfill their solemn and sacred oath in the enforcement of the laws of our land."

Although dealing in no personalities,

the resolution, it was said, was offered and approved at the suggestion of Dr. W. H. Major, pastor of Capitol Avenue Baptist church, who said:
"I feel that we should stand behind Mr. Millican in his efforts to make parks what they should be on the Sabbath." The paper was composed by Dr. Louis D. Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist church.

The conference, it was said, also voted to investigate published reports that persons purporting to represent Sunday schools have written Mayor James L. Key approving the plan of Sunday baseball in the parks. At the same time the opinion was expressed that no Sunday school in the city has "officially" sanctioned such a program.

Motorist Fined $100
As Crash Aftermath

Charged with failing to stop after an accident, Edwin Hill, of 9 Lakewood terrace, was fined $100 and given 12 months on probation by Judge
Jesse M. Wood, in city criminal court Monday, with the stipulation that if the fine is not paid three months must be served on the chain gang, the remaining nine months on probation.

According to officers, Hill failed to stop and give his name and address after a collision with a car driven by L. E. Welch, of 1749 Lakewood avenue, on February 1. Mr. and Mrs.
Welch and their 3-year-old child were treated at Grady hospital after the accident.

ALUMNI OF DAVIDSON TO GATHER THURSDAY

The ninety-seventh anniversary of the founding of Davidson College will be celebrated in Atlanta by former students and graduates of the college
Thursday night at the Henry Grady hotel.

Dr. Frazer Hood, widely known southern educator and author, will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at the dinner-meeting of the Davidson College alumni group. He arrived in Atlanta Sunday to deliver a series of lectures at the Columbia Theological Seminary.

Approximately 100 former students and graduates of Davidson College are expected to attend the dinner-meeting Thursday night, arrangements for which have been made by officers of the Atlanta alumni chapter, including Dr. E. L. Bishop, member of the staff of St. Peter's clinic, president, and W.
S. Woods, assistant vice president of the Trust Company of Georgia, secretary.

CENTRAL NIGHT WINS SCHOOL PAPER AWARD

Eleven school publications of Atlanta institutions were studied by judges Monday to select the winners in the Atlanta High School Press Association for 1933 and at the end of the judging "The Modern Knight," of Central Night school, was selected as the winner in the senior group and
"Joe Junior," of Joe E. Brown Junior High school, was named best in the junior group.

Judges, who were Dr. James B.
Routh, of Oglethorpe University; Roy Robert, of The Constitution, and Walter Ratliff, of the Atlanta Journal, were instructed to select first-prize winners only. The judges agreed that all papers were well written and excellent from a viewpoint of make-up, content and student appeal. Mildred Smith, of Commercial High school, where the judging took place, served as chairman of the committee of awards.

SATIRE IN LITERATURE TO BE TALK SUBJECT

The trend toward satire in literature will be the general topic of Mrs.
Emma Garrett Morris' talk in Rich's
Bookshop this morning. Christopher Morley, Winifred Holtby, author of "Mandos, Mandos," Robert Nathan,
Elliel Bernstein, author of "L'affaire Jones" and two Pulitzer prize plays, will be discussed informally.

"Satire is rapidly becoming an important form in current literature," Mrs. Morris remarked in talking over this subject.

"Practically all the musical successes of the past two or three years have been satires. 'Richard, of Bordeaux,' 'Let 'Em Eat Cake,' 'Of Thee
I Sing' and 'As Thousands Cheer,' to mention only a few, will make this Tuesday morning talk gay and merry."
These lectures are open to the public without charge.

SECRETARY OF STATE IS FIRST TO QUALIFY

John B. Wilson Forwards
Check, Says He Is Candidate for Re-election.

Secretary of State John B. Wilson Monday was the first state official or candidate to state for entrance in the September 12 primary.

Mr. Wilson forwarded his check for

JOHN B. WILSON.

$150 to Miss Eleanor Orr, of Newnan, secretary of the state democratic executive committee, immediately after reaching his office Monday morning.
He issued no statement other than to say that he was a candidate for re-election.

Mr. Wilson is nearing the end of his second term as secretary of state.
He formerly was private secretary to Governors Clifford Walker and L. G.
Hardman.

Quiet marked the first day on which candidates could qualify. Governor Talmadge is expected to forward his entrance fee to Miss Orr in a few days. The general feeling Monday continued to be that the governor would not be opposed.

THREE-ALARM BLAZE PERILS NEGRO SECTION

A three-alarm fire which threatened a dense negro residential section at Houston and Butler streets
Monday afternoon did small damage to a two-story frame negro apartment building at 232 Houston street.

Several thousand spectators saw the flames damage the roof of the building before firemen extinguished the blaze of unknown origin, which started on the second floor. Because of the possibility of the fire spreading, three alarms were turned in, but the firemen controlled the blaze within 20 minutes after reaching the scene.
Damage from the fire was estimated at several hundred dollars.

LIQUOR CAR 'REWARDS' TO BE DISCUSSED TODAY

County Attorney Ralph Pharr and Solicitor-General John A. Boykin
probably will confer today with reference to the legality of payment of one-third of proceeds of sales of confiscated liquor cars to arresting officers.
It was said Monday by Mr.
Pharr. The conference was scheduled for Monday afternoon, but Mr. Boykin had not returned from a weekend trip.

Report of the conference will be submitted to the board of county commissioners at its next session, which will probably be a special session held this week for the purpose of balancing the county budget.

COUNTERFEIT GROUP SMASHED IN WARSAW

WARSAW, Poland, April 9.—(AP)—
A police cleanup of a band of international forgers who were turning out wholesale quantities of United States
currency, French bank notes, Polish bonds and English sole certificates was announced today in local newspapers.

Several gang leaders were said to have been arrested here in collaboration with Scotland Yard, which assigned two of its operators to assist the Warsaw police.

Governor Leads Drive To Fill Up Old Wells

Governor Eugene Talmadge, who usually shies off campaigns, drives and the like, Monday succumbed to the desires of a group of Elbert county farmers that he aid in a campaign to fill up all of the abandoned wells in Georgia.

The farmers wrote the governor and said that the old wells were numerous in Elbert county, bringing danger not only to children, but also to farm stock. The governor responded by calling on his farmer
friends to fill up the wells and wrote a number of his neighbors at Mc-Rae to do the same. He also sent instructions to the superintendent of his own farm to see that the wells on his place are filled up.

Britain Entertains German Arms Plea

LONDON, April 9.—(AP)—Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, told the house of commons today that the British government is giving "very serious" consideration to Germany's contemplated increased expenditures on her army, navy and air forces. Sir John was cheered by the legislators as he made the announcement. He declared: "I have instructed our ambassador at Berlin to make inquiries of the German government on the subject." The commons was reconvening after its Easter recess for the session which will end in July.

CAR FALLS OVER BANK, CARRYING 3 TO DEATH

GAINESBORO, Tenn., April 9.—(AP)—Three persons were killed instantly and two others injured, one probably fatally, when a log truck went over a 30-foot embankment at Roaring river bridge, near here, today. The dead Henry Dodson, 65; Elijah Bull, 50, and Miss Sissie Poston, 35. Elmer Carr, 50, sawmill owner and driver of the truck, suffered a broken back and internal injuries. He was rushed to Vanderbilt hospital at Nashville in an effort to save his life.

There is a difference in lenses

You don't expect the same wearing qualities of a cheap suit as you do of a well-tailored suit of clothes. There's just as much—or more—difference in glasses and what they do for your eyes.

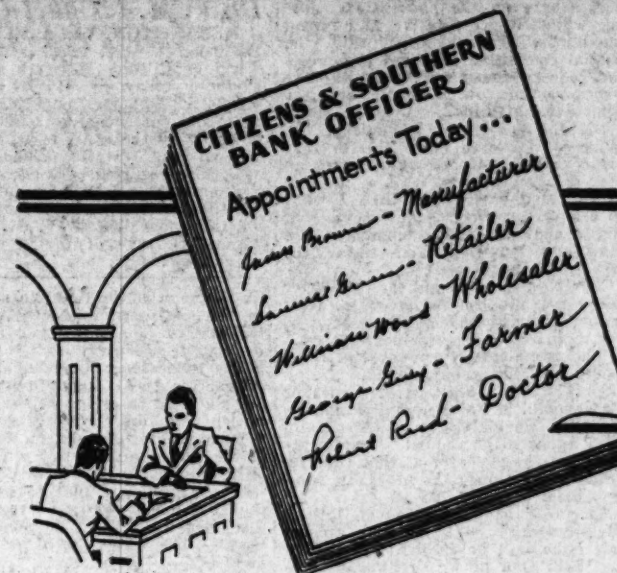

The pity of it is, that you can't detect the difference between two grades of optical lenses by feeling the glass or looking at the polished surfaces.

Buying glasses advertised at cheap prices is like skating on thin ice. Too great a risk for sensible people to take.

You can avoid all such risk and obtain honest advice about the glasses you need by patronizing a dependable, well-established Optometrist.

Business... IN REVIEW

"What advantage is there in talking to a banker about my business problems? He may know something about finance but what does he know about my business?"

A BUSINESS EXECUTIVE fired these and similar questions at me one day, when I suggested that he come to the bank and talk to the officers.

We are all creatures of habit and training along certain lines, based largely on the nature of our occupations. For the average man his viewpoint is limited by an intensive concentration on some given line of business.

For the banker—his business is Business, in all its phases. Manufacturer, distributor, retailer, consumer and professional man are his customers. Business passes him in review. He sees the successes of one and the mistakes of another. Your problem of today may be identical with one which he helped to meet and solve last year.

Bankers have never claimed to be supermen. They simply get a different type of training and experience which gives them through the years a collective knowledge that men may be able to use. In THE CITIZENS & SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK the benefit of that collective knowledge is yours for the taking. Every officer of the bank has just this one thought in mind:

"THE SUCCESS OF THE CUSTOMER IS THE SUCCESS OF THE BANK."

NO INCREASE in FORD V-8 PRICES

Recently Announced
New, low Delivered Prices
also remain in effect.

ATLANTA, April 9.—The Ford Motor Company has announced that there will be no immediate advance in Ford V-8 prices. Recently-announced lower delivered prices also continue without change.

This decision is of vital importance to thousands of people who are considering the purchase of a car this spring. It means that the Ford car (already occupying a unique position as the only car under $2,000.00 with a V-type, 8 cylinder engine) now becomes an even more outstanding investment in transportation and in motorist pleasure.

Known already to thousands as "The Car Without a Price Class," the Ford V-8 now moves, further than before, into a class by itself.

Nation-wide telegraphic response definitely indicates that Ford, already manufacturing America's fastest-selling car, will have to step up production even higher in April to meet a constantly-growing demand for the "Car Without a Price Class."

AND DON'T FORGET—

The following Special Equipment (which costs from $38.00 to $40.00 more on other cars) is furnished on Ford De Luxe models—at no extra charge.

Safety Glass throughout Twin tail-lights Twin cowl lamps
Two matched-tone horns Cigar-lighter and Ash receptacles
Two adjustable sun-visors Fenders that match the body Colored wheels

USED CAR BARGAINS

Due to the large sale of the Ford V-8, Ford dealers have taken in trade an unusually great number of good used cars. These cars are being moved rapidly at low prices to keep floor space free. If you want a used car, your Ford dealer offers you the buy of a lifetime.

How to Relieve Headache in Three Minutes

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, of organic causes, you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B. C.," a reliable, pleasant-taste remedy. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit-forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold.—(adv.)

Wirt Must Answer Queries Today or Face Contempt Case

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—House democrats today completed their preparation for Dr. William A. Wirt's appearance tomorrow by letting the G. O. P. know he must answer queries put to him or face contempt charges.

THE RAILROADS and the BUSINESS PICK-UP

The first three months of 1934 show a gratifying improvement in railroad earnings as compared with the same periods of 1933 and 1932.

Improvement does not mean immediate return to prosperity for the railroads but rather a checking of the downward trend of the past few years, with, probably, a beginning of the climb upward. But that climb upward must continue for some time before the railroads will be on anything even approaching "easy street." Only with the most stringent economies have the railroads kept going during the past few years, and last year 71 Class 1 railroads, among them the Central of Georgia, failed to earn operating expenses and fixed charges. These 71 railroads operate 58 per cent of the country's total mileage of Class 1 carriers.

Necessary economies have included postponing, wherever possible, maintenance and repair projects—many of which can no longer be safely deferred and must now be put through. The federal government urges that the railroads resume their role as one of the country's leading purchasers. Meanwhile prices have advanced on practically everything the railroads use, and additional money is needed even to continue purchases on the limited scale of former years. For example, if the Central of Georgia uses in 1934 the same amount of coal, material and other supplies that it used in 1933, advanced prices this year will require expenditure of at least half a million dollars more than these cost in 1933.

In addition to the accumulation of deferred maintenance projects which must now be financed there is an accumulation of past due obligations to be met. The Central of Georgia, for instance, still owes approximately $100,000 of its 1932 taxes and $250,000 of its 1933 taxes. These must be paid, in addition to current taxes.

Railroad management is going ahead on the assumption that the present improvement in business will continue. However, as compared with the lengthy period of decreased railroad earnings the present pick-up has been too brief to warrant any change in the policy of watching carefully every item of railroad expense.

Constructive criticism, and suggestions are invited.

H. D. POLLARD,
Receiver, Central of Georgia Railway.
Savannah, Ga., April 10, 1934.

President Roosevelt was "only the Keresky of this revolution." A debate on the house floor, during which Representative McFadden, republican, Pennsylvania, said the special committee proposed to confine the inquiry tomorrow to limits that were too narrow, brought out the democratic attitude.

"If the gentlemen are advising Dr. Wirt to refuse to name this or that brain trust," Representative O'Connor, democrat, New York, member of the committee said, "then I want to assure him that 'is one member of the committee—that committee will take care of Dr. Wirt under the powers of the house.'"

The New Yorker said the committee "does not propose to have Dr. Wirt launch a long academic discussion of the merits of our government system."

The committee is composed of three democrats and two republicans.

Only a little while before, Speaker Rainey said he had received pamphlets from Dr. Wirt in 1932, which contained "apparently radical" statements and that the educator at that time favored many things the president since has done.

In proof of his assertions, Rainey produced from his files four articles which he said he received from Wirt in 1932. One of the documents contained this line:

"If a revolution is necessary the proletariat will give us that too."

Rainey said that "in 1932 Wirt favored the exact program that we are trying to accomplish—farm relief, dollar devaluation and all."

"I can't understand how he could favor the program then and call it revolution now but I'm not going to try to account for his mental processes."

The speaker and democrats in general apparently were looking forward to Wirt's testimony with eagerness. On the other hand, the republicans were paying little attention to the inquiry.

"It's a closed case before it gets started," Representative McGugin, of

'Rat' System Abolished By V. M. I. Cadet Corps

LEXINGTON, Va., April 9.—(AP)—Abolition of the "rat" system at Virginia Military Institute was announced today by Major General John A. Lejeune, superintendent, who said the action was taken voluntarily by the cadet corps.

The "rat" system, designed to make the freshmen walk the straight and narrow path, although never officially recognized, has been a part of the cadet life at V. M. I. for almost the age of the 98-year-old institution.

Kansas, one of the republicans on the special committee, told reporters. Like McFadden, he complained that the scope of the inquiry was too limited.

The Princeton undergraduate publication, the Daily Princetonian, today published an interview with Adolf A. Berle, New York city chamberlain and a member of the research committee of the democratic party during the 1932 campaign, in which Berle said that charges of a plot to overthrow the government were the result of a joke played on Wirt "by some of the boys." The "boys" were not further identified.

Berle said Wirt was at a party in Washington "with some of the boys" and asked questions about the "Roosevelt revolution."

"They were all in pretty good spirits," Berle said, "and relished kidding the credulous old duffer. Confiding that Roosevelt was a Keresky, they said that he was just waiting for the right time to start his revolution. After two years, there would be a revolution. 'Yes,' they continued, 'the country is going to the dogs.'"

"But who is to be the Stalin," the doctor pressed. So having led him thus far, they decided to take him for a good, long ride and said solemnly, "Rexford G. Tugwell is the man." Thus intrigued, the doctor wanted to know why Tugwell was slated for the job.

"Oh, that's because we all call him Rex," they gaily replied.

"Now that story is absolutely on the level."

GERMANY WILL ASK CREDIT MORATORIUM

BASEL, Switzerland, April 9.—(AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the German Reichsbank, today expressed the hope that Germany's creditors would accept a moratorium on the transfer out of Germany of funds for the amortization and interest payments on long-term private debts.

On arriving here for a conference with creditors, he denied that he asked new loans, saying: "But I hope an agreement between Germany and her creditors will be possible to enable Germany to remain a big customer for raw materials, for only in that way can she pay her debts."

Gray Hair

Best Remedy is Made At Home

You can now make at home a better gray hair remedy by following this simple recipe: To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Bache Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it yourself at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. Barbo imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair, making it soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

Kill of 200,000 Seen For Northern Seal Fleet

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., April 9.—(AP)—The waterfront here was a hive of activity today as hundreds of seal killers unloaded four scarred and battered vessels back from the northern icefields.

Four other vessels were still among the floes and last reports from them indicated the total kill of the fleet was nearing the 200,000 mark. Last year six vessels brought in 178,046.

FLORIDIAN ARRESTED FOR DYNAMITING AUTO

WAUCHULA, Fla., April 9.—(AP)—Sheriff C. S. Dishong today swore out a warrant charging James Rutherford, 22, with assault with intent to murder, as a result of the explosion Saturday of two sticks of dynamite under the hood of an automobile owned by Mrs. Gordon B. Langford.

Clinics for treating cross-eyes by orthopedic training have been established in the United States, reports the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

the Hanna automobile on a side street here the night of March 26.

Directions, except that the package was a dummy, were followed and Postal Inspector Ralph Greer, impersonating Mr. Hanna, threw the package from the car. A man appeared from the darkness and grabbed it but officers, hidden near by during the day, closed in. The man dropped the package and escaped amid a hail of bullets.

Callahan, Overstreet said, admitted all of the plot except the attempt to obtain the dummy package. He insisted he was downtown in Thomasville at the time.

Officers said the man who tried to get the money was either a dark-skinned white man—Callahan is dark—or a negro. The next day Hansell Wilson was arrested and suspected as being a messenger who the real plotters had sent for the package. Wilson was said to death that night by Jailor W. J. Carter who said he was trying to escape.

Callahan denied any knowledge of Wilson or his having been sent for the money while Callahan denied any connection with the plot at all.

Officers were of the opinion now that Wilson may have been the victim of circumstances and was shot when he became crazed with fear and attacked the jailer.

Callahan left Thomasville the day after the plot failed and led officers a chase through Florida before returning here to tell the sheriff "I heard you were looking for me."

Both men will be given hearing before the United States commissioner in Valdosta tomorrow on charges of sending a letter through the mail with intent to extort.

'CAMPUS CO-EDS' FAST STAGE SHOW, NOW AT CAPITOL

"Campus Co-Eds" is the title of the stage offering at the Capitol theater this week and it is all very campy and co-eddy and so forth. There is an orchestra of a baker's dozen with swimmers bearing the big "C," a conductor whose antics could only originate in undergraduate surroundings. The orchestra, however, is excellent, all joking aside. It has only one pop and rhythm beat, rare for such aggregations, even dispenses melody.

There are six girls and three men in the cast of the performers. The girls are attractive and far superior in dancing to the usual groups. They offer specialties by ones and by twos, and then, as the big number of the show, there is a girl in a dark costume showing with a radium glow. The line girls behind her get the same effect with triple-skirted costumes.

This dancing lady, by the way, is billed as "Chinna," and it is advertised that she is to take the place of Sally Rand and the fans at the Exposition of Progress this summer.

The male members of the company comprise a dancing team who are good and a comedian whose original method of putting over old gas draws lots of laughs. On the whole the show is well worth seeing.

The feature on the screen is an M-G-M production, "The Women in His Life," with Otto Kruger giving a fine performance in the principal role. And, for the thousands of screen cartoon addicts, there is a Betty Boop.

AUDIENCE LIKES NEW FUNNY MAN WITH BURLESQUE

Snooky Woods did more than anyone else on the stage to make "Lid Lifters," new version of Atlanta burlesque, a success with the audience last night. The audience evidenced plenty of enjoyment, too, while the performance put on by half a dozen gentlemen in the gallery was itself noticeable, if nothing more.

There is a new comedian this week, a former Atlanta, in fact, named Roy Butler, who scored an immediate hit with the crowd. He does tramp comedy which, while thoroughly orthodox, is nevertheless right well done.

and seems to be just what local burlesque fans have wanted. Hap Farnell got good in the second act, with his old telephone act, but it must be admitted that he was quite up to the mark in the first half of the show last night. Seemed to have forgotten his lines or something, anyway the cuss went haywire at several crucial moments.

Mickie Dennis, newest of the strip women, again demonstrated that she has the prettiest figure of them all, while Elaine Davis and Cora Lee contributed their customary entertainment. And the chorus line repeated its routines with vim and vitality.

There was quite a good crowd last night, with at least a couple of dozen on all the way from Cartersville—they came up to town in a bunch in one of the school buses. And other enthusiasts kept the box office busy between acts filling reservations for return trips to the show later in the week.

If the burlesque purveyors keep Snooky and the new comic, Roy Butler, and if good old Hap just snaps back to his own best, the burlesque need never fear losing money in Atlanta.

WHO SAYS ALL GASOLINES ARE ALIKE?

STANDING ROOM ONLY—In the shadow of Stone Mt., Ga., a borrowed Dodge hauls this 4200-lb. load up hill to test 12 gasolines. All gasolines, except a few "third grades," sold for about the same price as That Good Gulf.

(At left) JOY-RIDING COWS—Two hunky Williamstown, Mass. heifers help to test 9 gasolines on Putneyburg Mt., Taconic Trail.

(Below) CHANGING GASOLINES—Referee Bowden empties out Gas "C" after its run up Stone Mt. grade. The gasoline being tested was poured in the jar, which fed direct to carburetor.

Is there any real difference in gasolines? Of a dozen good brands, is any one really better than the others? For the first time in gasoline history, these questions are frankly answered by a series of amazing tests on famous American hills with 33 gasolines.

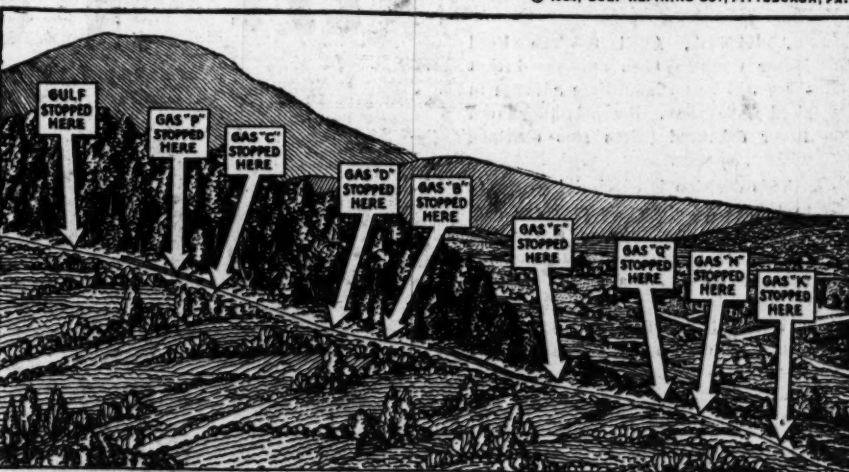

TO PROVE, once and for all, that there is a big difference in gasolines, Gulf travelled to 12 well-known hills—in New England, in the Middle Atlantic states, and in the South.

At each of these locations, we bought from 7 to 13 well-known gasolines from local service stations, including Gulf.

Each of these gasolines was then forced to propel a car and heavy load up a steep mountain grade until the motor stalled. The distance travelled by each gas determined its ranking in the test. NOW READ WHAT HAPPENED!

KENNESAW MT., GA.—Arrows indicate the points where the various gasolines stalled the motor. The starting line for all gasolines was some distance down the hill.

Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries

by taking this advice!

Can constipation safely be relieved? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know. You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can safely relieve this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

THE LIQUID TEST:

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, and perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna, a natural laxative; the dose can be measured, and the

1933 'EPOCHAL' YEAR
FOR LABOR, SAYS LAUCK*Undreamed-of Vistas Opened for Workers, Economist Reports.

CHICAGO, April 9.—(AP)—In a survey of what he termed an "epochal" year for labor, William Jett Lauck, Washington economist and labor expert, said today that the events of 1933 opened up undreamed-of vistas to industrial workers in general, and organized labor in particular.

Lauck's summary of the rapid-fire changes in connection with the NRA was made for the American Journal of Sociology's annual commentary of social changes for the preceding year published by the University of Chicago Press.

Three general movements were outstanding in labor affairs, he said. They were: (1) guaranty of labor organization and bargaining privileges; (2) recognition of labor as a co-partner with management in policy determination; and (3) recognition of the need for planned economy, especially with regard to length of working days and consumer power.

There was (due to the stimulus of the NRA) a growth in labor organizations, he reported. With four million workers enrolled under the American Federation of Labor banners, total organized labor was over the five million mark by the first of 1934, he said. The gain in the A. F. of L. since August was nearly two million memberships.

Unemployment, according to the most reliable estimates available, was placed at 6,700,000 persons at the end of 1933, and there were four million more on emergency federal pay rolls. The greatest number of unemployed persons was in March, 1933, when the number out of work was 13,688,000.

action thus regulated to suit your individual need.

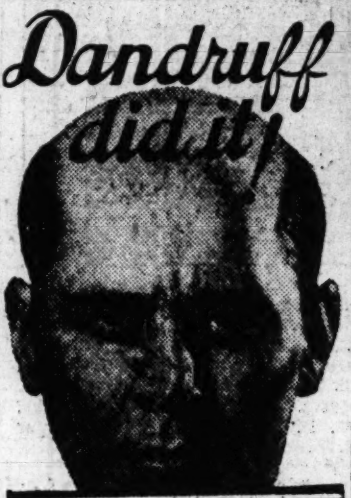

If there are children in your household, don't give them any form of laxative, but use a healthful, helpful preparation like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Its very taste will tell you it is wholesome, and agreeable to the stomach. Delightful taste, and delightful action; there is no discomfort at the time, or after. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all ready to take.

A Frank Statement Concerning
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

We believe the use of pills and tablets containing mineral drugs is rapidly giving way to gentle regulation of the bowels with a liquid laxative.

We believe Dr. Caldwell's original prescription of fresh herbs, pure pepsin, and senna is the ideal family laxative.

And we know it is a safe preparation for children and expectant mothers because it does not cause bowel strain or irritate the kidneys.

Margaret Sage, Atlanta Girl, Will Wed Young Film Actor

MISS MARGARET SAGE.

Margaret Sage, beautiful debutante Howard, 23-year-old film actor, it was announced Monday in Los Angeles, where they had filed papers indicating their intention to marry.

Though Mrs. Sage, in Atlanta, and Mrs. James J. Crawford, the girl's aunt, whom she is visiting in California, said they did not know of any plans for a wedding, city officials in Los Angeles said Miss Sage and Howard had filed preliminary papers for taking a marriage license Wednesday or later.

Miss Sage is a member of a prominent and pioneer Atlanta family and is the niece of Oliver Hardy, famous film comedian of the team of Laurel and Hardy. She went to Hollywood in January to spend the remainder of the winter with her aunt Mrs. Crawford, her mother said Monday night. She is the twin sister of Mary Sage, and both made their debuts here January 1 at a brilliant affair at the Piedmont Driving Club. The two sisters are listed among the most popular debutantes in the city.

The prospective bride-to-be attended Washington Seminary where she is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ira Y. Sage, who were pioneer and influential residents of Atlanta, and is the niece of Mrs. Charles M. Love, of Atlanta.

The Sage sisters are noted in society for their striking types. Margaret Sage being a dark brunette while her twin sister is blonde.

COURT WILL PASS
ON ECONOMY ACT*Georgia Woman's Case
One of Two to Decide
Future of Law.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—The supreme court agreed today to pass on the constitutionality of the economy act under which reductions were made in veterans' benefits.

It granted reviews to Sam Wilner, of Chicago and Mrs. Margaret S. Lynch, of Albany, Ga., beneficiaries of war risk insurance policies carried by the former's brother and the latter's son.

In both cases the trial courts held they were without authority to pass on the merits of the cases because of passage of the economy act.

Mrs. Lynch made her claim to benefits under a government insurance policy carried by her son, Thomas S. Lynch.

He died in 1924, and his mother filed her claim based on the contention the veteran had become totally and permanently disabled during the life of the policy.

No action had been taken when the economy act was passed by congress. Acting under it, the veterans' bureau informed her no further consideration would be given the claim.

A suit brought by Mrs. Lynch to challenge the validity of the economy act was dismissed by the federal district court for middle Georgia, which held it had been deprived under the economy act of authority to pass on the merits of the claim.

The ruling was approved by the fifth circuit court of appeals.

SUPREME COURT ORDERS TEST ON U. S. LIQUOR TAX

The United States was directed by the supreme court today to show by April 30 why Ohio should not be permitted to file suits to prevent the collection of federal wholesale and retail taxes on the state's monopoly of the liquor business.

The case is expected to decide whether the state has the sovereign right to engage in the liquor business without paying federal taxes.

INSURANCE COMPANY WINS DISMISSAL OF JUDGMENT

A judgment against the Hartford Accident & Insurance and the United States Fidelity & Guaranty companies, by Mississippi courts, on their bond given the Delta & Pine Land Company, of Scott, Miss., was set aside today by the supreme court.

The bond assured the land company against loss through fraud of its employees. The surety companies contended that as the contract for the bond had been made in Memphis, Tenn., and as all parties to it had offices there, the suit should be tried in the courts of Tennessee. They also asserted the bond did not cover defalcations outside Tennessee.

MISS FRANCES KELLEY PASSES AT AGE OF 22

Miss Frances Kelley, the 22-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Kelley, of 850 Briarcliff road, died Monday morning in a private hospital. She had been ill about a week.

Miss Kelley had been employed by the First National Bank of Atlanta for the last four years and was popular among the younger set of the city.

In addition to her parents she is survived by her grandfather, W. B. Kelley, of McDonough, Ga.; five aunts, Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Mrs. C. A. Beckman, Mrs. J. H. Simms, all of Atlanta; Mrs. D. O. DeLoach, of Savannah; and Miss Ruby Davidson, of Atlanta; two uncles, Fred C. Kelley, of Atlanta, and Hugh F. Kelley, of McDonough, and several first cousins.

Funeral services for Miss Kelley will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son. The Rev. Woolsey E. Couch will conduct the service, and interment will be in West View cemetery. First cousins of Miss Kelley will be pallbearers, Thomas and James Wilson, Charles Beckman and William Robert and Harry Simms.

TRINITY AVE. MARKET IS OPPOSED BY GROUP

Opposition to curb markets at Trinity avenue and Washington street and initiation of a drive for establishment of a housing authority for Atlanta featured a meeting of the Southside Civic Federation at the city hall Monday night.

The organization decided to send a delegation to aid in prosecution of Joseph F. Jones and J. W. Barwick, operators, when they are brought before the recorder's court at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon on charges of conducting the market without a permit as required by municipal ordinance.

In addition, the organization requested the city planning commission to refuse to grant any such permit at its meeting slated for Wednesday afternoon.

The housing authority, if granted by the Georgia legislature, would be formed for the purpose of aiding in a general program for residential and business development, the abolition of slums and general improvement of real properties.

CLYDE PANGBORN SAILS FOR SOUTH AMERICA

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—Clyde Pangborn, "round-the-world flyer," sailed Saturday for the Republic of Colombia, his associate, H. W. Johnson, revealed today.

Pangborn embarked on the liner Uluu, taking with him an airplane which he will demonstrate to the Colombian government, Johnson said. He emphasized that Pangborn had not enlisted in the air service of the South American republic.

Reports have been published that the Colombian government has recruited a large number of American aviators for its air force. These reports were again sharply denied at the Colombian consulate today.

POLICE SAY BERNHART
JUSTIFIED IN SLAYING*Harris Street Cafe Employee
Says He Shot to Save Own Life; Galls Buried.

Detectives who are holding a man giving the name of Major Bernhart, of a Harris street address, in connection with the slaying of Charlie Galls, Greek restaurant owner, Monday said the shooting was "justifiable homicide" in their opinion.

Galls, dressed in Easter raiment, was killed early Sunday morning in his cafe at 230 Harris street, and police said Bernhart orally confessed the shooting. A negro giving the name of Tom Colquitt, also held on "suspicion," will be released today. Detectives Jake Woodruff and E. L. Hildebrand, in charge of the investigation, said.

Bernhart told the officers that Galls, who had just returned from the Greek Easter celebration at a Greek church, beat him and Colquitt with a sawed-off billiard cue and that he fired at the restaurant owner to save himself.

Galls was buried Monday afternoon in Greenwood cemetery following funeral services at the Greek Orthodox church. J. Austin Dillon Co. was in charge.

Woodruff said Coroner Paul Donegan will not hold an inquest because of Bernhart's confession and that Bernhart will be formally charged today. The detectives said he is to make a written confession.

Police found Bernhart and Colquitt, both Galls' employees, in the restaurant when they went to investigate the shooting, and discovered Galls' body on the rear porch of the building. Four bullets, the holes from which formed a small square on his chest, had ended his life.

WOODMEN'S CIRCLE
PRESIDENT PASSES

Mrs. Mary E. LaRocca, national president of the Woodmen's Circle, died Monday night at her home in Omaha, Neb., officers of the fraternal organization in Atlanta were advised Monday night.

Mrs. LaRocca was entertained here for three days ending March 7, on the occasion of the convention of the state organization, of which Mrs. Clara B. Cassidy is state director.

First District B. W. M. U. To Hold Rally at Western Heights April 11

Members of the Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., will celebrate the forty-third anniversary of the organization Saturday, April 14, at 3 o'clock at Craig House, the chapter home, on Piedmont avenue. The Atlanta chapter is the oldest D. A. R. chapter in Georgia, the second oldest in the United States, the Chicago chapter having been organized first, well before the Atlanta chapter was formed on April 15, 1901.

A large birthday cake decorated with 43 candles will be cut by the 28 past regents of the chapter, who are invited to bring greetings from their administrations. An interesting program has been arranged. Mrs. R. B. Blackburn, a member of the chapter and a talented writer, has dedicated a poem to the chapter, which will be read, and she will also give original dialect sketches. James Calhoun will sing, accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Battle.

Mrs. Moreland Speer, who represented the regent at the state conference in Albany, Mrs. Harry Malone and Mrs. Slaughter Linthicum, delegates, will report on the state conference. In the absence of Mrs. James D. Cromer, regent, who is in Washington, D. C., attending the Continental congress, Mrs. George Britton, vice regent, will preside. D. A. R. and their friends are invited.

Mrs. Frederick W. Paist, president of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association, on Tuesday will be entertained at a luncheon with Mrs. Luther Z. Rosser presiding, and will be the guest speaker at 1 o'clock at the Capital City Club. Mrs. Paist is making a tour of the association in this section and it is a splendid opportunity for Y. W. C. A. members and friends to hear her speak.

Having reservations for the luncheon are: Meadams R. N. R. Bardwell, Frank Berry, Philip Graves, Charles Hoke, Luther Rosser, W. T. Smith, Wiley Ballard, Lee Ashcraft, Mary Kate Dinkin, Hal Hentz, Paul Hufish, Ashby Jones, L. D. McEachern, Emmett Quinn, Howard See, Comer Woodard, W. W. Alexander, Dan M. Byrd, Woolsey Couch, F. J. Atlanta D. A. R. Plan To Mark Anniversary Saturday, April 14

Members of the Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., will celebrate the forty-third anniversary of the organization Saturday, April 14, at 3 o'clock at Craig House, the chapter home, on Piedmont avenue. The Atlanta chapter is the oldest D. A. R. chapter in Georgia, the second oldest in the United States, the Chicago chapter having been organized first, well before the Atlanta chapter was formed on April 15, 1901.

A large birthday cake decorated with 43 candles will be cut by the 28 past regents of the chapter, who are invited to bring greetings from their administrations. An interesting program has been arranged. Mrs. R. B. Blackburn, a member of the chapter and a talented writer, has dedicated a poem to the chapter, which will be read, and she will also give original dialect sketches. James Calhoun will sing, accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Battle.

Mrs. Moreland Speer, who represented the regent at the state conference in Albany, Mrs. Harry Malone and Mrs. Slaughter Linthicum, delegates, will report on the state conference. In the absence of Mrs. James D. Cromer, regent, who is in Washington, D. C., attending the Continental congress, Mrs. George Britton, vice regent, will preside. D. A. R. and their friends are invited.

THE WILD BIRD

BY OWEN JOHNSON

INSTALLMENT III.

When Barbara came in she looked around the room and, perceiving a pair of horn-rimmed spectacles on the reading table, picked them up and brought them over.

"Here are your glasses, Aunt Matie. You'll want them later."

Aunt Abbie, who, like all deaf people, listened through her eyes for fear of missing something, beckoned to her niece and, advancing the ear trumpet, said:

"And how did your father seem?"

"Well,"

"Well, eh?" She put away the ear trumpet as though satisfied with the news of the day, but at once, fixing her gaze on Barbara, she said with a jerk of her forehead, "My dear, haven't you forgotten something?"

Barbara, looking into the great mirror, saw that her hair was still in disorder.

"Why so I have, Aunt Abbie," she exclaimed in surprise, and was leaving the room when the maid brought in her handbag.

"You left this in the carriage, Miss Barbara. Why, so I did." She took it and hurried up the stairs. The two incidents had vividly impressed the aunt, who followed her movements with anxiety.

"You look feverish, my dear," said Aunt Matie.

"Never felt better, auntie."

Martin Brawne came in.

"O, we're always well, Martin, always well."

Thomas's gray sideburns came in with the famous family sherry and the old ladies stood up with a jerky alacrity.

They went into the dining room, resplendent in the fashionable oak of the 1870's: massive oak fireplace, massive oak sideboard, relieved by fine old family silver; massive oak table with glowing white table cloth and heavy silver centerpieces filled with quince blossoms. The silver was colonial, five generations in the family, and the Lowestoft plates had the initials of her great-grandmother. Thomas served the soup from a ponderous soup tureen and the stately maid began.

The procedure never varied. During the soup Mr. Brawne devoted five minutes to each sister in turn, hearing their little budget of news concerning the garden, the chickens, the condition of the sheep, etc., and retelling the news of friends whom they never saw, or explaining the investments he had made for their accounts.

Martin Brawne was at this period in his 67th year, and the thick, black rimmed spectacles seemed to have widened and set immovable on his square, ascetic face as though they had effectually imprisoned behind them all emotion and sympathy.

The fierce spirit of no compromise, which had never permitted a telephone, or electric light, or a furnace in the house, had worked rigid furrows about the lips which were drawn down.

"Martin Brawne," said Ed Chippinway, who in his pagan enjoyment of life disliked him cordially, "always looks as though he were saying to himself, 'Who's going to annoy me now?'"

Nevertheless when he looked at Barbara there was a perceptible relaxation in the graven rigidity which suggested at times a sculptural smile of content.

Sensitive in every mood of his child, he had been quick to detect the abstraction in her manner.

"I'm on the wrong scent," he thought. "It's not a newcomer. It's Laurie Chippinway's return. Can it be that that boy and girl affair has flared up again?"

He pushed away his plate, all at once without appetite, and began covertly to watch his daughter.

From the moment she had met Brawne, Barbara had been preoccupied with the force and brusqueness of his personality. She had thought of him all the way home, seeing his stalwart figure in front of her, the broad head with the tumbling aureole of yellow hair, the aquiline all of the clear gray eyes that had suddenly unheated a film and looked at her with an arrested interest.

"He liked me," she thought, "but why? Why should I attract him, with all the brilliant women he must meet?"

He had impressed her at once as a positive force, some one vital, dynamic, original, drawn on a broad canvas. Some one self-confident, self-centered, and self-sufficient. What she would have liked to have been if she had been a man and master of her own destiny. People like that had put himself in the world, people who loved life and lived it gorgeously. She felt he did, by the warm rumble of his laugh and the enveloping seizure of his hand. She wondered if he had put himself in his books, in which of his characters—

"Barbara, you are eating nothing!" cut in the voice of her father.

She came to, looked at her plate, and hastily, astonished at her preoccupation and fearful of having betrayed herself, began to eat. Fortunately a diversion saved her.

"Mouton Rochichid '96," said Thomas, preparing to fill his master's glass.

"Only a half a glass tonight, Thomas."

The old butler, accustomed to serve the full pint, could not repress a human surprise. The aunt exchanged glances of amazement. The slightest deviation from routine was a catastrophe. Barbara, remembering, all at once broke in anxiously:

"You saw Dr. Richards, father?"

"An old woman—all doctors are alike. They always begin by telling you that your condition is serious. They think that's the easiest way to impress you."

"Did Dr. Richards tell you to give up wine, father? What's one doctor to tell me to change my habits?" he exclaimed impatiently. "When I was 22 didn't three doctors tell me I was tubercular and ought to go to rest? I found one who had sense enough to know what was the matter."

Barbara looked at her father anxiously, thinking:

"Poor daddy, if he has to give up his wine the dinners will be dreadful. However, there's nothing to be very serious about with him. He looks hardly a day over sixty."

"By the way, Matilda," said Mr. Brawne suddenly, "I heard you called on the Torbys the other day."

"Yes, we called on the Torbys."

"A divorced woman?"

Aunt Matie, just before her brother's look, turned helplessly to Barbara.

"Why, father, that was 20 years ago."

"And how does that change the situation?"

"Really, father, that's carrying it a little too far. The girl is charming. Everyone has called. If we are to stop speaking—"

"I said nothing about speaking to them. I will not receive the Torbys in my house."

"Father, really! Times have changed—"

"All the more reason, in the present demoralization of society, for

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

IN AFRICA WITH DU CHAILLU.

II—A Gorilla Adventure.

Many were the adventures of Du Chaillu in Africa, but perhaps none was more thrilling than the one with a gorilla in the Fan country.

"He advanced a few steps, then stopped to utter that hideous roar—advanced again and stopped. Just as he began another of his roars, beating his breast in rage, we fired. With a groan which had something terribly human in it, he fell forward on his face. The body shook, and then death had done its work."

Du Chaillu killed other gorillas as well, but he remarked that it gave him a sickening feeling to do so.

In telling of one which he killed, he said:

"Gorillas differ in height. This one was over five feet six inches. Its arm spread out seven feet and two inches. Its chest measured 50 inches around. Its feet were well fitted for grabbing and holding on."

Du Chaillu learned that gorillas were fond of the tonda, "a pulpy, pear-shaped fruit" of reddish color.

"Not only were the gorillas fond of tonda," he added, "but I myself liked it very much. As did also the negroes. Many times would have starved in the forest without the tonda."

Girl Scout Leaders Will Meet For Regional Conference April 31

Girl Scout leaders from Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida and Porto Rico will meet at the Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta April 31, May 1 and 2 for the annual conference of the Juliette Low region. Mrs. Arthur I. Harris, of Atlanta, announces.

Members of the National Girl Scout staff who will attend are Misses Katherine Park, field representative in the Juliette Low region; Miss Ray Mitchell, camp advisor and director of regional camps; Alice Phillips, member of the staff as instructor in Brownie leadership; Olea Schreffert, director of plays and dramatics; and Amelia Thorsell, who is the national camp director.

The members of the regional committee include Mesdames Lee Ashcraft, Atlanta, Ga.; Lucien H. Boggs, Jacksonville, Fla.; Curtis E. Bynum, Asheville, N. C.; David R. Coker, Hartsville, S. C.; Frank D. Holland, Atlanta, Ga.; George Lanier, West Point, Ga.; C. Nichols, Savannah, Ga.; H. Plante Osborne, Jacksonville, Fla.; Jefferson Penn, Raleigh, N. C.; Herring Winslow, Macon, Ga.; E. M. Cushman, Greenville, S. C.; Hugh Matheson, West Palm Beach, and Mrs. Alfred G. Kay.

Mrs. Frank Holland, program chairman, reports that the opening session of the conference will be Monday evening at 8 o'clock and Mrs. Albert S. Adams, commissioner, will welcome the guests on behalf of the Atlanta Girl Scout council. Miss Olea Schreffert will speak on the "Older Girls' Activities" and the local council will present a "Court of Awards in Tableaux."

The general session of discussions for the purpose of exchanging ideas on policies and programs and plans will be held each morning and afternoon in private rooms, with Mrs. Harris presiding.

Mrs. Lee Ashcraft will entertain the regional committee at luncheon Monday and Tuesday afternoon. This will be limited to members of the entire conference. At the banquet Wednesday evening Mrs. Albert S. Adams will preside.

Excursion to the conference in the city a week-end of training in troop and camp activities will be offered and leaders, council members and troop committees will be limited to members of the regional committee. The national field training will begin Friday afternoon, Saturday and Sunday at the Atlanta Girl Scout camp, Clivania, which is 11 miles from the city just off the Bankhead highway. The national field representatives will be there and this will be an excellent opportunity for instruction in all kinds of Scout crafts for leaders of troops.

Mrs. Nunnally Fetes Alliance Francaise

Members of the Alliance Francaise will be the guests of Mrs. Jessie McKee Nunnally Thursday afternoon, April 12, at 3 o'clock at her home, 1311 West Peachtree road, N. W. This meeting will be presided over by Mrs. John M. Slaton, vice president, acting president of the alliance during the absence of Mrs. Slaton, who will shortly return from a tour of the orient.

Mrs. Hal Davison will lecture on the gardens of Russia and a number of members of the alliance to which she has been for many years a most hospitable hostess. The musical program will be given by Miss Elizabeth Morgan, who will play "La Fontaine," by Ravel; "Les Jardins Sous La Pluie," by Debussy, and "Le Petit Air Blanc" by Ibert.

Before the social hour with the hostess, there will be a French play, acted by Mesdames Hal Davison, George H. McKee, with Mrs. Peter Porobovskikh and Dr. George Raffolovich. The members present will be called upon to guess at the words during the absence of Mrs. Slaton, who will shortly return from a tour of the orient.

People Stared

She was so Fat!

But now they look in admiration... for she's as slender as an artist's model... without exercise, diet or drastic purgatives.

Be slim and be sought after. Be fat and be alone. Why be fat when it's so easy to get rid of excess weight by means of a tried and true corrective, known and recommended by physicians the world over? Many years ago medical science discovered that obesity—when an abnormal condition—is caused by the lack of an important element which the body normally supplies.

That element—which is the chief ingredient of Marmola—has since been prescribed to thousands of overweight women, with amazingly beneficial results. It is taken with their meals. They do not exercise, starve themselves, nor drain their systems with drastic purgatives. Yet day by day they have felt lighter, more alert, more energetic. Soon they find their weight satisfactory.

The excess fat has simply slipped away, revealing the trim and slender figure underneath.

Sounds like a miracle, but thousands who have taken Marmola as directed—4 tablets a day—might tell you it's a demonstrated fact. Since 1907, more than 20 million packages of Marmola have been purchased. Nothing succeeds like success. Marmola is put up by one of the leading medical laboratories of America.

Start today! You will soon experience Marmola's benefits. When you have gone far enough, stop taking Marmola. And you will bless the day when you first discovered this marvelous reducing agent!

Marmola is on sale at all dealers—from coast to coast.

Parent-Teacher Delegates Honored Here at Luncheons and Dinners

The legislation-citizenship luncheon given at the Baptist Tabernacle on Monday to delegates attending the Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers, convening at a three-day session in Atlanta, was presided over by Mrs. Cleve Webb and Mrs. James Gordy, assisted by delegates from the Muscogee County Council of Parents and Teachers, of which Mrs. Frank David is president. Hon. Hamilton McWhorter, of Athens, president of the Georgia senate, spoke on "Child Welfare Legislation." Dr. S. V. Sanford, dean of the University of Georgia, spoke on "Citizenship." A mother's chorus from the Sam Innan school sang several numbers.

A large cake, a reproduction of the capitol at Washington, D. C., adorned the center of the speakers' table, and a miniature courthouse ornamented each end of the table, from which roads led to the capitol building. Miniature figures approached the courthouses, significant of the legislative committee slogan, "Every P. T. A. Member Registered and Voting."

Hand-painted place cards designated the guests' places, and red, white and blue flowers reflected a patriotic note. Each edible mentioned on the menu card was named for a child welfare project sponsored by the state organization. Seated at the speakers' table were Mrs. Hugh Bradford, of Sacramento, Cal., president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers; Miss Jessie Gray, president of N. E. A.; Mrs. R. H. Hankinson, president of Georgia Congress; Miss Marian Telford, national safety chairman; Mrs. Dennis D. Willis Sutton, national chairman of drama and narcotics; Mrs. G. C. Crowbridge, president of the Fifth District; Mrs. D. D. Smith, director public welfare; Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools; Hon. Hamilton M. McWhorter, Dr. S. V. Sanford, Mesdames Frank David, James Gordy and Cleve Webb.

Mrs. C. O. Crowbridge, president of the fifth district, presided over the dinner given Sunday at the Standard Club by members of the fifth district board of managers to the state board of managers and to the visiting officers and chairmen of the national congress.

Blue and gold, the colors of the national congress, predominated in the table decorations. Silver candlesticks, held blue tapers, and hand-painted blue bowls were filled with jonquils. A blue basket held talliesman roses and blue delphinium, and the place cards represented the insignia of the organization. Mrs. V. Peterson was chairman of arrangements for the dinner, with Mrs. W. M. Schneider in charge of decorations.

NANCY PAGE Sweet as a Sugar Leaf Is This Pattern From Nashville By FLORENCE La GANKE.

"Mrs. Butler, of Nashville, Tenn., is the generous donor of the quilt pattern for the day. She said in the letter which accompanied her block that she is 67 years old and is copying this pattern from a memory of a quilt she pieced when she was a mere child of eight or thereabouts. She calls it 'Sugar Leaf'."

"I suggest," continued Nancy, speaking to the members of the Nancy Page quilt club, that you develop this in pink and white. Then it will be just plain sweet as any sugar leaf should be."

There are a number of ways in which the quilt may be put together, but in the direction sheet which I have worked out I suggested what S. meets this evening at 9 o'clock in the Kirkwood Masonic hall.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Dear Miss Chatfield—I am a widower of 55. My children are married and gone away from home. They are consistently of me, come to see me frequently and invite me to their homes. However, these occasions, as frequent as they are, leave me many days of loneliness. I spend most of my evenings alone. Reading is my main diversion and I tire of it. Nearby is a charming girl of 20 who has gone out of my life to be nice to me. I feel myself drawn to her. Now I have decided my interest in her because I have not made up my mind as to the wisdom of courting a girl 35 years younger than myself. I have no assurance that she would consider me but I would like your advice as to the likelihood of my being happy and making her happy if I were to marry her.

Answer: There is not one chance in a thousand that you would be happy or that she would make a 20-year-old girl happy if you were to marry her. A 20-year-old girl would have nothing in common with you but the income for which you might conceivably marry her. In the prime of her youth every fiber of her being cries out for excitement, for gaiety, for the good times that youth has with youth. To partake with such a life you would have to sacrifice the dignity that becomes your years or see your wife dance off with more congenial partners.

The other alternative would be to permit her to renounce everything that she considers pleasurable. No 20-year-old girl, however intellectual she may be, can be happy sitting by the fire reading a book or hearing an old man philosophize about love, life and letters. If by force of will and under constant effort of the new experience, you could whip yourself up to her pace for the first few years you might stave off the evil day, but at best it is just around the corner. Even parents who are not required to keep up with the capriciousness of their children find it difficult to get and keep their viewpoints, to enter sympathetically into their lives.

A husband almost old enough to be a grandfather to his wife can feed her, clothe her and love her but, in the nature of things, he cannot be a companion for her. Between them there is a great gulch fixed, a gulch that nothing can bridge. There is a wide, wide parting which by the law of science and the law of average is doomed to failure, to say nothing of the reasoning of common sense.

An eligible widower or an eligible bachelor is as much in demand as a husband. Hostesses are on the lookout for him whenever they have a party. Whether he lives in town or country there are hundreds of widows and old maid cutting their eyes around the corner to catch his eye or running after him to grab him by the coat tails. He doesn't have to exert himself to find them. He has simply to let it be known by the look in his eye that he is in receipt of the new experience, this accepting an invitation to a dinner or to a dance he lays himself liable to be deluged with requests for his presence at a party every night in the week.

An old lady of 80 years who travels about a great deal remarks that every resort in the land is overrun with widows from 30 to 80 years old all looking for husbands. It adds that they may find them, and she adds "The eligible men are gobbled up so fast that the majority of these restless women must be continually on the move to greener pastures."

A man of 55 should have no trouble finding a wife when he can make himself happy, or so can make him happy. It is a 50-50 proposition, you know, married happiness. A couple has to have mutual interests and congenial companionship if they are to be happy in marriage. Age and youth can't find this common meeting ground.

THE ROCKS OF DISTRIBUTION
Rare, indeed, is the hand at bridge which player, not vulnerable, has an absolutely sound opening bid with a surplus of honor tricks and finds himself left in a contract one doubled, in which, because of dearth of distributional values, he goes down 1,000 points.

However, Mr. Charles B. Grimes of Jacksonville, Fla., was the participant in the rubber bridge game in that city in which his luckless opponent in the West met this fate.

The hand was:

West, dealer.

Neither side vulnerable.

 The bidding:
 West North East South
 1♠ 1♥ 1♠ 1♠

Mr. Griner was seated South and reasoned, when North doubled for a takeout, that regardless of what his partners' high cards and distribution of values might be, it was much better to play against West's contract than to make a bid of two with four hearts to the six-spot. As a matter of fact, this view was fully sustained by the result.

North opened the king of diamonds and continued with the queen and ace. Mr. Griner discarded on the three diamonds his three losing clubs. North then led the singleton ace of hearts and then a club, which was trumped by South, and the eventual result of the deal was that West made only the ace and king of spades. A hand containing 41-2 honor tricks turned out to be worth but two tricks in actual play.

Of course, it is obvious that the hand would have played better with any other declaration than spades for South. But if the hand had been in spades, should have rescued West, and the chances of the double being left in were too great.

West's partner pressed obviously for penalties. West should have bid on trump and allowed East to decide in regard to the best bid for the combined hands.

MISS JOYCE DECLARES SHE IS IN EARNES

HOLLYWOOD, April 9. — (C) — A romantic and idyllic romance with 23-year-old Lord Revelstoke, British nobleman, was the subject of a sensational story in the London press. The story, which was based on a romance between a young actress, a few hours after the publication of the story, started a suit in London charging he broke a promise to marry her.

She said he adored her "like a looked in the clouds" and that allowed him to "distraction."

"Imagine my heartbreak and my loneliness on learning he had married another woman," said Miss Joy. "I suppose 'Robin' thought at one time he had killed me good-bye. Well, I was not some little chorus girl. I've been a bright star in London."

INCOME TAX HIKE MEETS OPPOSITION

Democratic Leaders Feel Increased Levies Not Essential.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(UP)—Strong opposition to the proposed 10 per cent extra "recovery tax" on 1934 incomes developed in the senate today as party leaders emphasized that the administration did not consider the increased levies essential.

Senator James Couzens, republican, Michigan, multi-millionaire leader of the higher tax bloc in the senate, formally introduced his amendment to the pending tax bill calling for a flat 10 per cent increase in all income tax returns. He submitted a table of figures to prove that the "little man" would not be greatly affected by his proposal.

For example, under the amendment an individual with a net taxable income of $3,000, after all exemptions are made, would pay only $8.50. This is $11.20 less than he would pay under the present law and only 80 cents more than his return under the pending revenue act. On the other hand the Couzens' amendment would hit sharply the incomes in the higher brackets.

Soon after Couzens offered his amendment, Chairman Pat Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, of the senate finance committee, which is in charge of the tax bill, explained his position and that of his committee on the Michigan senator's proposal.

Harrison had stated last Friday that the committee would accept the amendment and take it to conference with the house.

If it passes the senate, the amendment will encounter violent opposition in the house, where leaders unanimously are opposed to it unless the increased rates are ordered either by President Roosevelt or the secretary of the treasury.

"Unless we get some definite word that the money is needed, I do not believe the house will accept the amendment," Majority Leader Joseph Byrnes, democrat, Tennessee, said tonight.

The senate today approved a surtax of 30 per cent on the undistributed adjusted net income up to $100,000 of personal holding companies, and 40 per cent of the income over $100,000.

PINCHOT RAPS MELLON IN OPENING CAMPAIGN

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 9.—(AP)—Appealing for the support of the "plain people" and assailing "the whole evil brood of policies and practices" he said were represented by Andrew Mellon, Governor Gifford Pinchot tonight opened his campaign for the republican nomination to the United States senate.

He said over a radio hookup that Senator David A. Reed, who is seeking re-election, "stands for the Mellons, whose obedient servant he has been and is today."

"I stand for the rights and the opportunities of the workers, the farmers, the miners, the soldiers, the small businessmen and women, the home-makers, the teachers and the school children of Pennsylvania," the governor asserted. "I stand for the plain people."

JOHNSON EN ROUTE TO JOIN ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—Hugh S. Johnson was en route to Florida this afternoon to join President Roosevelt's yachting party.

The NRA administrator had been invited by the president to go with him at the beginning of the vacation trip, had accepted, and then at the last minute because of acute problems facing his organization, remained behind.

His trip was announced. He was accompanied by his assistant, Francis Robinson.

ABOARD NOURMAHAL, OFF GUN CAY, BAHAMAS, April 9.—

(P)—President Roosevelt received White House correspondents on board his vacation yacht Nourmahal today and gave a two-hour interview which left the newspapermen unconvinced of his fishing luck on this trip.

Wearing a blue jersey and old gray trousers, the president sat on the awning-covered quarterdeck of the yacht, anchored just off the shore of the Bahamas islands. As he indulged in his first contact with public affairs since leaving the White House more than 10 days ago.

He declined to break his vacation for comment on current affairs and waved good-by with the declaration "all is well" and the word that he would land somewhere in Florida Wednesday night or Thursday morning for the return to Washington.

The newspapermen went to the yacht presumably as an investigating committee to inquire into Mr. Roosevelt's joking complaint against the story of his son, Elliott, that he wasn't having any fishing luck.

Members of the Nourmahal party gathered around the sun-tanned president to back up a series of "news bulletins" which he read to support his side of the argument.

One of the bulletins told how Mr. Roosevelt had landed a sperm whale with a three-inch line after an all-day fight. The bulletin explained that the whale was caught just under the eight-hour limit beyond which the president would have refused to work.

However, the newspapermen couldn't find the proof and they were unanimous in siding with young Elliott's doubt of his father's luck.

Vincent Astor, owner of the Nourmahal, was reported in the president's bulletin as having caught two turtles at the price of $1 apiece from a fish market.

Astor showed the newspapermen various catches of fish placed in tanks about the yacht.

A beautifully colored blue and green queen trigger was credited to the president.

Almost every manner of fish inhabiting tropical waters was located in the Nourmahal aquarium.

Four speckled trigger engaged in a furious fight in their tank last night and two were killed.

Some excitement was aroused this afternoon when the call of a fish catch was sounded. Lytle Hull, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., however, only had one of the dead fishes which had been thrown overboard on his line and the doubt of fishing luck aboard the Nourmahal was further increased.

Gar Wood, international speedboat champion, carried the newspapermen from their Miami headquarters to the Nourmahal in one of his speed boats. It was a 50-mile run directly across the gulf stream. Marvin H. McIntyre, secretary to the president, and James Roosevelt, elder son of the president, accompanied the group. James remained on board the ship.

While carefully refraining from any comment on national affairs, there was just an indication that Mr. Roosevelt felt the time had come to return to the capital to deal with congress.

Plot Against Carol Laid to Staff Officer

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 9.—(AP)—A plot to bomb the Domnitsa Balazs cathedral at an orthodox midnight Easter service and kill King Carol, the crown prince and members of the government was believed by authorities tonight to have been planned by Colonel Prekup, of the Rumanian general staff.

Officials believed also it had been planned to slay Mrs. Magda Lupescu, friend of King Carol. The affair was kept a secret from the public throughout the Easter holidays and even political circles were ignorant of it.

It was learned that the alleged plot may have been motivated by a desire for revenge for the unsatisfactory reward Colonel Prekup believed he received for the leading part he played in the return of King Carol from exile in 1930.

Among the 10 high army officers who were arrested in connection with the reported conspiracy were General Schmidt, head of the poison gas department of the war ministry; Captain Muculescu, inspector of the gendarmerie; Major Niculescu, of the engineering staff, and Colonel Patraulescu.

Party Leaders Forecast Vote of 1,900,000 in Election Today.

CHICAGO, April 9.—(AP)—The Illinois state-wide primary election, the first under the "new deal," brings to a finale tomorrow a campaign that has engendered bitter sectional fights—one of them drawing Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes into the ring as assistant gladiator.

Only a few republican candidates have shouted their battle cry of "recovery without revolution." Apparently saving their party ammunition for the run-off election, but there has been some criticism and some support of the national administration.

Party leaders tonight forecast a vote of 1,900,000, considerably less than the total of 2,131,018 in the white-hot general elections of 1932, but higher than average in an off-year primary.

Only four offices—state treasurer, superintendent of public instruction and two congressmen-at-large—will receive a state-wide vote, but hot battles have been waged over the nominations for 25 congressional seats.

Of those attracting interest has been the campaign of Henry T. Rainey, speaker of the national house, for renomination in the twentieth district against James H. Kirby.

Rainey has taken little part in the primary campaign, except to charge from Washington that Wall Street money was being "poured into the district" to defeat him.

Secretary Ickes has entered the campaign with a "personal endorsement" of Ralph Church for congress in the tenth district, comprising the wealthy North Shore suburbs of Chicago, against James Simpson Jr., declaring Simpson's career as a steep-chase rider and polo player had not fitted him for congress.

BUDGET OF $10,847,736 ADOPTED FOR COLUMBIA

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—A budget of $10,847,736.46 has been adopted by the trustees of Columbia University for the year beginning July 1, 1934. President Nicholas Murray Butler announced today.

Total appropriations recommended for 1934-35 are $139,149.06 less than for the previous year.

American Show Troupe Ordered Out of Japan

TOKYO, April 9.—(AP)—Police, cold to the beauty of 45 American showgirls whose charms have packed Japan's largest theater for the last six weeks, ordered their early departure today.

The company, known as the American Revue Troupe, headed by A. B. Marcus and including 75 members, was notified it must leave Japan on the first liner after completion of the Tokyo engagement April 15.

The action will force cancellation of several weeks' booking in Nagoya and Osaka.

The troupe arrived in Tokyo from San Francisco on February 23. Members' transit visas expired March 28. Police granted an extension until April 15. At further extension was refused.

BLIND VETERANS WIN BENEFIT PREFERENCE

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—The veterans' administration laid down a rule today that blind veterans of the World War are entitled to nearly twice the relief given a soldier who lost a leg in action.

In answer to a written question, it said that a blind veteran, restored to the rolls by the new veterans' legislation, is entitled to $150 a month plus $50 for a nurse or attendant, even though the blindness resulted from "willful misconduct."

A World War veteran with a disarticulation of a leg as a result of combat with the enemy can receive a maximum of $110 per month, the ruling said.

The bureau then outlined the status of other cases as follows:

"A World War veteran who, as the result of gunshot wounds received in action, has lost the use of both feet or both hands, or one foot and one hand, or one eye and one eye, or one hand and one eye, or is helpless or bedridden, cannot receive in excess of $175 per month even though granted the rate for permanent total disability, $100 per month, plus $50 for nurse or attendant, plus the statutory allowance of $25 for the loss of one or more feet or hands."

The interpretation added that "for disability less than that described but nevertheless serious injury resulting from gunshot wound, the veteran would receive proportionately less, depending upon the degree of disability."

Should the veteran have suffered injuries additional to the loss of his sight, rates are graded up to $250 a month.

REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN SUFFERS FROM ABSCESS

PITTSBURGH, April 9.—(AP)—Everett Sanders, chairman of the republican national committee, is recovering in a Pittsburgh hospital from an abscess which caused him to become ill three weeks ago.

House rules provide that if 145 members sign the petition presented by Representative Weideman, democrat, Michigan, a vote would be in order on the question of discharging the banking committee which has McLeod bill under consideration. If carried, the measure would be brought before the whole house for a vote on passage.

Weideman's petition said the aim of the legislation was to promote business recovery and to fulfill the "implied guaranty of the United States government of depositors' safety in national banks."

McLeod said that although his original bill, which is the one he wants reported, includes only closed national banks, that amendments would be offered on the floor if the petition were successful, not only to include all federal reserve members, but nonmembers as well.

DEPOSIT PAYMENT SOUGHT BY SOLONS

Jesse Jones Opposes Bill to Provide U. S. Guarantee of Frozen Funds.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—A move to force consideration of legislation under which the government would pay off depositors in closed national banks was undertaken in the house today by advocates determined to get action at this session.

However, soon after a petition was filed to bring the McLeod bill to the floor, opposition to it was expressed by Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Corporation, who told reporters the government would suffer a "tremendous loss."

"Most of the banks, Jones said, 'got rid of their best assets before they closed. They stayed open as long as possible and since they closed, most of the good assets left have been liquidated.'"

The RFC chairman was unable to estimate exactly the amount the government would have to pay, but thought that banks which are members of the federal reserve system and national
